

"...and I thought how unpleasant it is to be locked out; and I thought how it is worse perhaps to be locked in." p.31

And who has got the key?

"...one has only to read, to look, to listen, to remember." p.19

And to publish, to sell, to exhibit...

"...and that so to work, even in poverty and obscurity, is worthwhile."
p.149 (final words)

But was it enough?

Quotes are taken from Woolf Virginia, A room of one's own, 1st published 1929, Oxford
World's classic paperback 1998

Questions are raised by Anja Westerfroelke for digA@aroom, Brusseles, March 2006